SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH:

San Francisco, Cal., April 19th, 1906, 11:55 a. m.—Day dawned on a scene of death and destruction. During the night the flames consumed many of the city's finest structures, and skipped in a dozen directions to the residence portions. They made their way over into the north beach section, and springing anew to the south reached out along the shipping section, down the bay shore, over hills and across toward Third and Townsend street warehouses and manufacturers concerns fell in their path. This completed the destruction of the entire district known as south of Market street. Down town everything is in ruin. Not one business house stands. Estimated loss in San Francisco from one hundred and fifty million to two hundred million dollars. Loss of life placed at five hundred. Reports from interior most alarming: Santa Rosa one of the prettiest cities of the state, is a total wreck. There are ten thousand homeless men, women and children huddled together. The loss of life cannot be estimated, will probably reach thousands. The destruction of Healdsburg, Geyserville, Cloverdale, Hopland and Ukiah also reported, in every case loss of life and property as shocking as here.

ENTIRE CITY DOOMED.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH:

Oakland, Cal., April 19, 1906, 1:40 p. m.—Fire is still raging throughout San Francisco and there is no possibility of stopping it until it exhausts itself for want of material. Entire city is doomed. The authorities are still dynamiting buildings in the vain hope of checking the progress of the flames, but a new misfortune has befallen the place. Explosives for blowing up the building is becoming exhausted, even the powder of the government arsenal is all gone. Every business building and half of the residence portion of the city is destroyed.

San Francisco, April 19.—Earthquake and fire during the day put nearly half of San Francisco in ruins. From 200 to 700 people have been killed, 1,000 others injured and the property loss will exceed $100,000,000. Thousands of people are homeless and destitute and all day long panic-stricken refugees have been fleeing from the devastated districts to places of safety.

Night added to the horror and as darkness fell the sky was illuminated in all directions. As the flames spread into the residence districts people left their homes and fled to the parks and squares. The series of rather severe shocks at 7 o'clock further increased the terror and many left homes that were not in danger.

It was 5:15 o'clock a. m. when a terrific earthquake shook the whole city and surrounding country. One shock lasted two minutes and there was an almost immediate collapse of flimsy structures in all parts of San Francisco. The water supply was cut off and when fires broke out there was nothing to do but to let the buildings burn. Telegraph and telephone communication was shut off for a time. The Western Union was put out of business completely and the Postal was the only company that managed to get a wire out of the city. At 10 o'clock the Postal, too, was forced to suspend in San Francisco. Electric power was stopped and street cars could not run. Railroads and ferry boats also ceased operations. The various fires raged all day and the fire department was powerless to do anything except dynamite the threatened buildings. The explosions shook the city and added to the terror of the inhabitants. Following the first shock there was another within thirty minutes, but not so severe. Three hours later there was another short quake.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE IN MANY OTHER CITIES.

Reports from outside districts indicate widespread damage. San Jose, forty miles south of here, lost many buildings and between fifteen and twenty persons were killed. The annex of the Vendome hotel collapsed and fires broke out. Stanford university and Palo Alto suffered. At Stanford many of the handsome buildings were demolished and two people were killed. One of them was Junius Robert Hanna of Bradford, Pa., and the other was Otto Gurtis, a fireman.

Six other students are lying in the Palo Alto hospital with bruises, cuts and internal injuries. These are Ross D. Howard of San Francisco, Henry L. Dearing of Santa Ana, Cal.,

Frolli and Halbert R. Thomas of Los Angeles, Albert Westwick of Santa Barbara and W. H. Masters of Portland, Ore.

The courthouse at Redwood City, and other buildings collapsed. Menlo Park, Burlingame and other fashionable suburban towns suffered. Santa Rosa, to the north, Napa, Vallejo and all towns around the bay were damaged. These reports, alarming as they were, created little interest in San Francisco, where the people were so frantic that they rushed into the streets in night garments. The day's experience has been a testimonial to the modern steel building. A score of these structures were in course of erection and not one suffered. The completed modern buildings were also immune.

The burned district extends from the water front south of Market street to Market street and west to Eleventh street, north of Market. The fires extended out Hayes and McAllister streets nearly to Fillmore and from the water-front along Market to Montgomery and north from the water-front to Montgomery street. Factories, hotels, wholesale houses and residences, comprising the principal part of the business section, have been destroyed. The city hall, a structure costing $7,000,000, was first wrecked by the earthquake and then destroyed by fire. The Palace hotel, value estimated at $3,000,000, also burned. The beautiful Claus Spreckels building, at Third and Market streets, was gutted. The Rialto building and dozens of other costly structures were also destroyed. The Hall of Justice is threatened and will undoubtedly go. The Examiner and the Call buildings are gone and the Crocker building across the street from the Palace hotel is on fire.

No afternoon papers were issued and it is doubtful if the morning papers will appear. The Southern Pacific tracks are in such condition that only a crippled train service has been possible.

The Chronicle building and its New street annex are still standing. The buildings that collapsed were all flimsy wooden and old-fashioned brick structures. The damage by earthquake does not begin to compare with the loss by fire. The heart of the business section of San Francisco has been burned.

A thickly built-up area of eight square miles has been burned over and there is no telling when the fire will be under control.

Mayor Schmitt took prompt measures for the relief and protection of the city. General Funston was communicated with at once and by 9 o'clock 1,000 federal soldiers were guarding the streets and assisting the firemen in dynamiting buildings.

FOUR MEN EXECUTED WHEN CAUGHT LOOTING.

General Funston realized that stern measures were necessary and gave orders that looters were to be shot at sight. Four men were summarily executed before 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

At a meeting of fifty citizens called by the mayor it was announced that 1,400 tents will be pitched in Golden Gate park and arrangements have been made to feed the destitute in the public squares.

A general meeting of the citizens' committee has been called for 10 o'clock a. m.

It is probable that, even with the spirit and willingness shown by the people of San Francisco, outside aid will be necessary. A message from President Roosevelt was received during the morning and it had a cheering effect.

The greatest destruction occurred in that part of the city which was reclaimed from San Francisco bay. Much of the district was at one time low, marshy ground, entirely covered by water at high tide. As the city grew it became necessary to fill in many acres of this low ground in order to reach deep water. The Merchants' Exchange building, a fourteen-story steel structure, was situated on this reclaimed ground. It had just been completed and the executive offices of the Southern Pacific company occupied the greater part of the building.

DAMAGE TO RESIDENCE PORTION IS SLIGHT.

The damage by the earthquake to the residence portion of the city, the finest part of which is on Knob Hill and Pacific Heights, seems to have been slight. On Knob Hill are the residences of many of the millionaires who, in the early seventies, became wealthy through mining investments or the construction of the Central Pacific railroad. They include the Stanfords, Huntingtons, Hopkins, Crockers, Floods and others. The Fairmount hotel, not yet completed, stands on the brink of Knob Hill, overlooking the bay. It was not seriously damaged.

The hotel was erected by Mrs. Herman Oelrichs of New York as a monument to her father, the late United States Senator James Fair, but she recently sold it to local people for $3,000,000.

To the westward, on Pacific Heights, are many fine new residences. But little injury was done there.

The Palace hotel, a seven-story building about 300 feet square, was built thirty years ago by the late Senator Sharon. The Palace was then considered the best equipped hotel in the West.

The offices of the three morning papers, the Chronicle, the Call and the Examiner, were within 100 feet of each other. The Chronicle, situated at Market and Kearney streets, has a ten-story steel frame building, one of the first structures of its character put up here. The Spreckels building, in which were the business offices of the Call, is sixteen stories high and very narrow. The editorial, composing and press rooms were in a small three-story building immediately in the rear.

Just across Third street was the home of the Examiner, seven stories high, with a frontage of 100 feet on Market street.

FERRYBOATS AGAIN RUN TO THE STRICKEN CITY.

During the afternoon the ferryboats resumed running from Oakland and at night thousands of homeless and panic-stricken people were leaving the city. The suffering and hardships beggar description. Countless numbers in the poorest sections, including the Chinese, Japanese and Italian quarters, have been rendered homeless and unless supplies and aid reach the city within twenty-four hours, starvation will add to the awful calamity.

Nearly every landmark that has made San Francisco famous has been laid in ruins or burned to the ground. Never has the fate of a city been more disastrous.

For three miles along the waterfront buildings have been swept clean and now the blackened beams and great skeletons of factories and offices stand silhouetted against a background of flame that is slowly spreading over the entire city. The whole commercial and office section of the city on the north side of Market street from the ferry building to Tenth street has been consumed in the raging hell, while hardly a building is standing in the district south of Market street. At 2 o'clock a. m., despite the heroic work of the firemen and the troops of dynamiters, who razed building after building and blew up property valued at millions, the flames spread across Market street and swept up Montgomery street, practically to Washington street. Along Montgomery street are some of the richest banks and commercial houses in San Francisco.

The famous Mills building and the new Merchants' Exchange, in which is situated the Marine and Stock Exchanges, were standing at 2 a. m., but the Mutual Life Insurance building and scores of bank and office buildings were on fire, while blocks of other houses are in the path of the flames and nothing seems to be at hand to stay their progress. Block after block of banking houses are now masses of red-hot ruins and it will be months before the money that was housed in their valuable vaults can be reached.

The earthquake caused the partial wreck of the California hotel on Bush and Kearney streets and the falling chimney and cornice of the hotel crashed through the firehouse adjoining, severely injured Fire Chief Sullivan so that he was unable to direct the work of fire-fighting. He is now in a hospital in a precarious condition.

Despite this disheartening accident, the fire department, assisted by part of the Oakland department and many volunteers, did heroic service, many brave men losing their lives while performing works of succor. The earthquake, however, had broken most of the water mains. Whatever water was obtained to fight the flames on the harbor front and in the factory districts was pumped from the bay.

This compelled dynamiting, as the only possible method of saving any of the city.

WIND CARRIES FLAMES TO RICHEST PART OF THE CITY.

The flames were kept confined to the south of Market street in the business section until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the wind carried sheets of flame into the richest part of the city.

Nearly every factory building has been wiped out of existence and a complete enumeration of them would look like a copy of the city directory.

Many fine buildings were leveled to dust by terrific charges of dynamite in the hopeless effort to stay the fire horror. In this work scores of heroic soldiers, policemen and firemen were maimed or killed outright.

At 10 o'clock p. m., the fire was unabated and thousands of people were fleeing to the hills and clamoring for places on the ferryboats.

The damage is now believed to have reached $200,000,000, and fifty thousand people are thought to be homeless.

There is neither gas nor electric light in San Francisco now. The plant of one of the gas companies blew up in the morning, and all the other gas in the city was turned off.

At 9 o'clock p. m. an Associated Press man who went to a high hill overlooking the city noted that the sky on the east and south sides was illuminated for a distance of four or five miles. The illumination on the southern side was of a duller glow, showing that the flames were not consuming property of such great proportions as was the case on the east side.

FLAMES ARE CHECKED AT WASHINGTON STREET.

In the business district toward the water front the flames were either checked or blocked at about Washington street and at the corner of Kearney the Hall of Justice could be noted standing, but it was impossible to determine what damage had been done to the interior.

From the Hall of Justice to the south the fire cut its way through some of the choicest buildings in the city, the Pacific Mutual and the Italian-American bank being reduced to ashes. Down Kearney street on both sides it

COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETING.

According to the call issued the republican county committee met on Wednesday afternoon at the court house for the purpose of issuing a formal call for the county convention which will elect delegates to the state convention in Duluth on June 13. The meeting was not largely attended owing to the fact that farmers are busy with their spring work and that the roads in many sections of the county are almost impassable. The date for holding county conventions throughout the state was fixed by the state central committee for Wednesday, June 6th, and for holding caucuses to elect delegates to the same on Saturday, June 23, and this action was ratified by the committee and a resolution adopted fixing the basis of representation of the several precincts upon the average vote cast for the republican candidates for state offices at the general election in 1904, each precinct being entitled to one delegate for every 25 votes or major fraction thereof so cast. This basis of representation is the same as adopted by the state committee in fixing the membership of the state convention, and the figures contained in the blue book are taken as a basis to determine the number of delegates each precinct is entitled to. This basis cuts the representations in several wards of the city and in some of the country precincts and makes a smaller convention, but the committee considered it a fair apportionment under the circumstances. The formal call for the convention will be issued this week.

Little Daughter of Geo. Brundette In North Part of County is Fatally Shot

LIVED ABOUT 24 HOURS

Bullet From 22 Caliber Rifle in Hands of Brother Pierces Child's Brain

The little daughter of Geo. Brundette, a farmer living in township 138-28, in the northern part of Crow Wing county came to her death in a peculiar manner Tuesday. Mr. Brundette was out hunting Monday and returning home set his gun, a 22 caliber rifle down beside the door. A little five-year-old son picked up the rifle, which was loaded, and the father told him to take the gun into the house. As he entered the door the rifle was discharged in some manner and the bullet entered the forehead of the little girl who was about a year and a half old and lodged in the base of the brain at the back of the head. The baby lived about twenty-four hours, dying Tuesday. The funeral was held Wednesday and the body laid to rest in Jenkins cemetery. The family formerly resided in Brainerd.

SONG RECITAL.

The recital given by Mr. Harry E. Phillips at the First Congregational church last evening more than fulfilled expectations. Mr. Phillips has a most powerful baritone which is capable of the most delicate shadings and the program was of such a nature as to fully demonstrate these facts. From the sweet tender tones of "The Evening Star" from Tannhauser, Darling My Own," and "Lady Moon" to the rousing, vibrant, triumphant "Pipes of Pan," "Pirates Song" and "The Tormentor" was indeed a great change, but in both styles Mr. Phillips certainly excels any male soloist who has ever sung in Brainerd. Something must be said of Miss Mildred Phillips, who acted as accompanist. Mr. Phillips is indeed to be congratulated upon having the services of one so able to enter into his various moods. The sympathy between them is perfect and this element plays no little part in his success.

BOYLE IS REINSTATED

Attempts to Bar Eddie Boyle From Playing with Indiana University Falls Through

Purdue University made an attempt to debar Eddie Boyle, of this city from playing base ball with the University of Indiana on the ground of professionalism. The claim was that he played with Jasper independent base ball team when professionals were playing on the same team. It was shown that Boyle played only after the team was reorganized on a strictly amateur basis and the objection was set down on hard. Eddie is one of the strongest players on the team and his loss would have crippled Indiana badly.

LAWRENCE CONDON
ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Receives Contents of Both Barrels of Shot Gun in Hands of Earl Hanson

BOYS WERE GREAT FRIENDS

Entire Lower Part of Face Torn Away by Shot and Death is Instantaneous

Mrs. Nellie Condon and Chas. Blum drove down from Rice Lake, Cass county, arriving here last night with the body of Lawrence Condon, aged 14, who was shot Sunday by Earl Hanson, the son of a neighbor. The story of the tragedy as told by Alex Gilmer is extremely sad. Mr. Gilmer left home shortly before the accident and was in Brainerd at the time of their arrival.

Mrs. Condon is housekeeper for Mr. Gilmer and the boy was in his employ. The boy started out Sunday to hunt ducks and went afterwards to the home of Mr. Hanson to visit with the children, with whom he was a great friend. There were several children playing hide and seek in the woods, young Condon having set down his gun and joined in the game. Earl Hanson picked up the gun and in some way it was discharged the entire charge of both barrels striking young Condon, who stood about 10 feet away, in the face and chest, killing him instantly. The entire lower part of the face was torn away.

As near as can be learned, the Hansons were too badly scared to tell Mrs. Condon, who was alone at the Gilmer place at the time of the tragedy, and she spent all night Sunday night and part of Monday hunting for her boy. Finally, on Monday, the second time she met the Hansons, they told her of the accident.

Mrs. Condon then went to the home of Charles Blum, living six miles this side of Mr. Gilmer's place, and they got the body and started for Brainerd Tuesday morning, the trip taking two days. It is only possible at this time of the year to get either to Brainerd or Grand Rapids and so they came here. Immediately upon arrival Mr. Gilmer telephoned to the coroner at Walker, but was unable to reach him, and the body will be buried in Evergreen cemetery this afternoon after services by Father Lynch.

Mr. Gilmer speaks very highly of the boy and says that he and Earl Hanson were almost inseparable chums and he feels certain that there was nothing intentional in the shooting.

WANT LOCK IN DAM

Some Talk of Trying to Compel Placing Lock in Dam in Mississippi River
At Brainerd

There has been some inquiry among launch owners and prospective launch and other boat owners as to the course necessary to secure the placing of a lock in the dam across the Mississippi at this place. There are a number of citizens who would like to purchase launches if they could keep them on the river near the city, but if they must go clear to the dam every time they want to use them there would be more work than pleasure in it. They are therefore trying to learn what steps are necessary to get a lock placed in the dam here.

DEATH OF
MISS JESSIE GIBB

Relief Comes After Long Months of Suffering From Consumption

WAS BROUGHT UP IN BRAINERD

A Large Circle of Friends
In This City

Miss Jessie Gibb, eldest daughter of John Gibb, of Long Lake township died at the home of her parents at midnight April 17, 1906, of consumption. The funeral services will be held at the house at 11 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, conducted by Rev. Harry W. Knowles, followed by services at the Presbyterian church, Brainerd, at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. F. McLeod. Interment will be Evergreen cemetery.

Jessie Gibb was born in Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 15, 1872. She came to Brainerd when but five years old and has made Crow Wing county her home ever since, except for a year and a half spent in Arizona in search of health. She was educated in the Brainerd schools, having graduated from the high school in the class of 1898. For five years she taught in the Brainerd public schools, being principal of the Mill school when failing health compelled her to resign, after which she went to Arizona in an unavailing effort to stay the progress of the white plague. Since her return from Arizona she has been at the home of her parents in Long Lake. She was a faithful Christian, living unselfishly for others and was a devoted daughter and sister. A host of friends join the bereaved family in their heavy grief. Both parents, one brother and seven sisters survive her.

Important
To Brainerd

Profit by This and Find Safeguard Against Many Ills.

Nothing is more important to Brainerd than the good health of her people. How can they fill their place in this busy town unless they are well?

No one trouble is responsible for more nervous ills, sleeplessness, general debility, weakness, backaches, rheumatic pains, even ill-temper and peevishness, than indigestion.

Fortunately, a combination of remedies, called Mi-o-na stomach tablets, has been discovered that absolutely cures indigestion and restores to health and strength the whole digestive system.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in curing all forms of stomach weakness and troubles that H. P. Dunn & Co. give a signed guarantee that the remedy will cost nothing unless it cures. Mi-o-na sells for 50 cents, and is invaluable to anyone who suffers with indigestion, nervousness or weak stomach.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST BUSINESS COLLEGE

BESIDES giving thousands of bright boys abundant spending money (some earn $15.00 a week) we teach our boys salesmanship, that quality that commands such high salaries in the modern business world. A Brooklyn insurance man, whose son sells THE POST, writes us:

"You are probably conducting the best business college on earth, for you are not dealing with theories but with cold facts in practice, based upon your excellent methods for encouraging and helping boys in every way."

Boys who want to make money, boys who want to be taught how to win, by one of the most successful business firms in the world—these are the boys we want to hear from. We can teach you how to "play the game" and you make good money while you are learning. It doesn't cost you a cent to start—for we furnish the first supply of magazines free and you can buy your next supply with the sales of the first.

We have a booklet that tells about some of our boys—the money they have made, the extra prizes they have won and how they gained success. If you are a "success boy"—made of the right stuff—we want you to write us—right now.

OTHER TOWNS SUFFER

SAN FRANCISCO NOT THE ONLY CITY DAMAGED BY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

BIG UNIVERSITY DESTROYED

ALL BUT ONE OF THE LELAND STANFORD, JR., STRUCTURES ARE WRECKED.

Oakland, Cal., April 19.—Earthquake and fire during the day caused the greatest calamity California has ever known. In San Francisco alone it is estimated that 1,000 persons have perished, while as many more are suffering from injuries. The entire business portion of the city is in ruins and the flames which, owing to the lack of water, cannot be checked except by the blowing up with dynamite of buildings in their path, are still sweeping through the city. It is utterly impossible at present to estimate the property loss, for the extent of the conflagration cannot be told until the fire has burned itself out. Thousands of people are homeless and many are huddled in the parks and public squares beside the household goods they were able to save. The city is under martial law and all the down town streets are patrolled by cavalry and infantry. Details of troops are also guarding the banks. Most of the principal buildings have already been destroyed and others are in imminent danger. Over all the scene of desolation hangs a dense pall of smoke.

Communication with outside towns is almost entirely cut off, but the report comes from Palo Alto that all but one of the buildings of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university have been wrecked and that the splendid memorial church, one of the finest structures of its kind in the world, is a mass of ruins. One student is known to have lost his life.

Five Persons Killed.
In Oakland five persons were killed. San Jose and Sacramento, Berkeley, Alameda and other places heard from suffered severely, but report no loss of life.

The dreadful earthquake shock came without warning at precisely 5:13 o'clock a. m., its motion apparently being from east to west. At first the upheaval of the earth was gradual but in a few seconds it increased in intensity. Chimneys began to fall and buildings to crack, tottering on their foundations. People became panic stricken and rushed into the streets, most of them in their night attire. They were met by showers of falling buildings, bricks, cornice and walls. Many were instantly crushed to death, while others were dreadfully mangled. Those who remained indoors generally escaped with their lives, though scores were hit by detached plaster, pictures and articles thrown to the floor by the shock. It is believed that more or less loss was sustained by nearly every family in the city.

Damage at Alameda.
Alameda, Cal., April 19.—The earthquake caused a loss here estimated at fully $200,000. No lives were lost. A few persons were seriously injured. William Cunningham at the Leona hotel, had his skull fractured by falling brick, and may die.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED.

Dowie May Return to and Preach in Zion City.

Rockford, Ill., April 19.—John Alexander Dowie was granted an injunction by Judge Robert W. Wright of the circuit court here during the day. By virtue of it Dowie may now return to Zion City and enjoy free access to his home and to Shiloh tabernacle, for a week at least. He also may hold religious services in the tabernacle on every alternate day during that period, if he so desires, and he is granted freedom from public insult or ridicule.

The restraining order, which is directed against Voliva and thirteen of his associates, is to continue in effect until April 25, for which date Judge Wright made the writ returnable. Voliva and his adherents are restrained from committing any act which might affect the title to the property involved. In his petition, Dowie alleges that his person and dignity have been unmercifully exposed to insults and threats of violence and that his authority as head of Zion City has been cast under wrongful suspicions.

SOME RUSSIANS SURPRISED.

Fail to Comprehend View of Americans Regarding Gorky.

St. Petersburg, April 19.—Much interest has been aroused here by the cable accounts of Maxim Gorky's fall in public estimation in the United States on account of the disclosure of the fact that the woman who accompanied him to New York was the actress, Mme. Andreleva.

Many Russians, among whom quite a different code of morals is accepted from that which prevails in the United States, seem incapable of comprehending the American point of view, and there is much surprise at what is regarded as the intolerance of Americans.

California Earthquake

10 o'clock the conflagration was still raging with fury but the direction of the wind prevented its advance up the hills to the west. Yet the greater portion of the structures to the west of Kearney up to Dupont were burned as far south as California. All around the new fourteen-story Merchants' Exchange building the fire burned fiercely, licking the sides of the steel giant, but it resisted the influence of the heat until late in the evening. Then came the destruction of the Western Union building at the corner of Pine and Montgomery streets. In this building was the office of the Western division of the Associated Press. Earlier in the day the occupants had been ordered out by the authorities on account of danger and the Associated Press established a temporary station in the Bulletin editorial rooms. Then the latter place was closed and this dispatch is being written on a doorstep near Chinatown, the illumination of the burning buildings furnishing light for the writer.

BUILDING MAY BLOCK SWEEP OF THE FLAMES.

It appears that the great Mills building will block some of the southward sweep of the blaze, as it had already checked an advance northward earlier in the night. If this proves true, the limits of the fire will be determined, but predictions on this point are as unreliable as the strong winds, which are every five minutes changing from one direction to another.

The city, in the face of its appalling disaster, is fairly quiet and orderly.

It is impossible to give anything like an accurate estimate concerning the killed.

At 10 o'clock the Occidental hotel began to burn and the great Crocker building, containing the Crocker-Woolworth National bank, was ablaze.

On Geary street the Albert Pike Memorial Temple of the California bodies of the Scottish Rites, containing scenery that cost $20,000 and costumes valued at $15,000, collapsed.

Down on the harbor-front the earth seems to have sunk from six to eight inches and great cracks appear in the streets. Car tracks were twisted into all sorts of shapes and buildings before they were destroyed by the fire seemed to be completely out of plumb.

At midnight the fire still roars. Fleeing inhabitants can be seen from miles around the pillars of fire towering skyward. The crash of falling ruins and the muffled reports of the exploding dynamite reach the ear at regular intervals. A disaster that staggers comprehension and in point of terror and damage is unprecedented, has not yet reached its culmination.

INSANE ASYLUM WRECKED.

More Than Two Hundred Persons Killed.

Los Angeles, April 19.—A telephone message from Salinas at 11 p. m. gave the following information:

"One hundred and twenty bodies have been taken out of the Agnew insane asylum near Santa Clara and there are probably 150 more corpses in the ruins. The magnificent structure was demolished. At Loma Prieta, eighteen miles from Santa Cruz, a mine house slipped down the side of a mountain, burying ten men in the ruins."

CLIFF HOUSE DESTROYED.

Noted Resort Swept Into the Pacific Ocean.

San Francisco, April 19.—From the Cliff House comes word that the great pleasure resort and show place of the city, which stood upon a foundation of solid rock, has been swept into the sea. Not a thing remains to tell where the monster stone building once stood. It has been levelled to the foundation.

SANTA ROSA RUINED

BETWEEN TWO HUNDRED AND FIVE HUNDRED PEOPLE KILLED THERE.

Sacramento, Cal., April 19.—Dr. Stone, superintendent of the Napa state hospital, telephones the governor's office that an automobile arrived there with news that Santa Rosa is ruined and that between 200 and 500 people are killed.

EARTHQUAKE AT SALINAS.

Damage in That City Exceeds Two Million Dollars.

Salinas, Cal., April 19.—At 5:15 a. m. three shocks of earthquake visited this town, lasting respectively, five, three and two seconds. They came from the Northwest and Southwest. The damage will be $2,500,000. No lives were lost in Salinas, but one man, Armstrong, of Santa Cruz, jumped from the window of the Jeffries house and broke his leg.

At 2:20 p. m. another shock was experienced. No lives were lost. Several persons were injured. There is intense excitement.

At Watsonville, the Moreland academy was destroyed by fire and several buildings collapsed. At Monterey and Pacific Grove there was also a shock, but only slight damage. At the Delmonico hotel three chimneys fell through the roof, killing a bride and groom and one hotel servant and injuring several others fatally.

OFFER FROM ROOSEVELT.

President Volunteers Federal A. J. to Sufferers.

Washington, April 19.—President Roosevelt manifested profound interest throughout the day in the news of the earthquake at San Francisco. Early in the day he sent the following telegram to Governor George C. Pardee at Sacramento, and Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz at San Francisco:

"Hear rumors of great disaster through an earthquake at San Francisco but know nothing of the real facts. Call upon me for any assistance I can render."

Later in the day he sent the following dispatch to Mayor Schmitz:

"I share with all our people the horror felt at the catastrophe that has befallen San Francisco and the most earnest sympathy with your citizens. If there is anything that the federal government can do to aid you it will be done."

He also sent the following to Governor Pardee:

"It was difficult at first to credit the news of the calamity that had befallen San Francisco. I feel the greatest concern and sympathy for you and the people not only of San Francisco but of California in this terrible disaster. You will let me know if there is anything that the national government can do."

CASE OF MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Indiana Man Kills His Wife and Himself.

Columbus, Ind., April 19.—Jesse Davis, aged thirty-five, shot and killed his wife, aged thirty-three years, during the afternoon and then killed himself. The two had been separated for six months and Tuesday Davis learned that his wife had applied for a divorce. He found her during the afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Conrad. The two were together in a room for a few minutes when two shots were heard and the dead bodies were found a moment later.
